- Best TA I have ever met.
  - Bin-Soon is very available to his students. He is a little rough around the edges at times, but I think the tough love is needed sometimes. Very witty and clever man. He is perhaps a little sassy at times because he is incredibly intelligent and some questions may seem silly to him, or that could simply left over from his time at Berkeley. Either way, Bon-Soon is a great man and was a great resource in this class. Thank you very much, Bon-Soon. I will miss you and your Friday afternoon office hour sessions.
  - Bon Soon is an excellent TA. Absolute superstar.
  - Bon-Soon Lin is a legend. He makes things make sense, and his energy makes the material almost seem exciting. He is very generous with his office hours. Best TA I've had so far in any subject, hands down. Thank you Bon-Soon!
  - Bon-Soon carried me in this class. I learned more in his 1 hour discussions than I did with a week of Chanussot. Bon-Soon went above and beyond any other TA I've had, making a website with practice problems and an overview of the chapters covered and offering extensive office hours "until there weren't any more questions" right before midterms and finals. I only wish we could carry his discussions on past 50 minutes.
- Bon-Soon is a terrific asset to the UCLA math department.
- Bonsoon is exactly what a TA should be. Loved this guy- he spoke concisely, had an informative answer for every question, and genuinely enjoyed the material! I hope to get Bonsoon as my TA again in my Mathematics future here at UCLA!
  - Bonsoon was literally the best TA I've ever had. He was so helpful and engaging during discussions and made me want to come to office hours. I wish all TAs were so interested in their subjects and so good at communicating this interest to students
  - He is really helpful in this course. And he tried to get more office hours in order to help us.
  - The greatest TA I've ever seen.
